Hosting your video visit

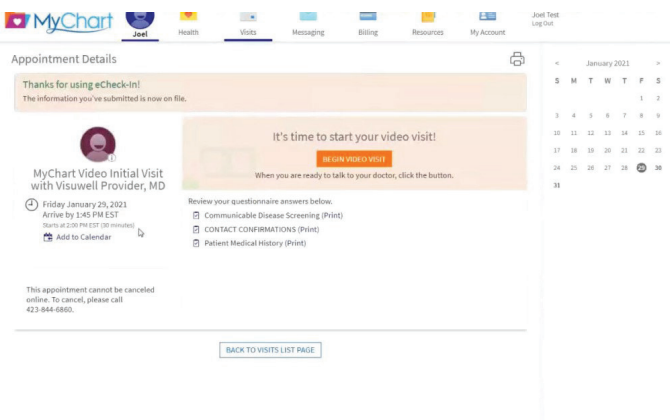

Once you have created your account, it's time to start preparing for your visit. Before you join your telehealth session, it is very important to do a pre-visit technology check.

It's important to have the right technology, so ahead of your visit review the Pre-Appointment Technology Checklist and conduct your technology test to ensure you have the bandwidth to conduct the session. On the day of your appointment, to avoid any technology issues, join your session at least 15 minutes before the appointment time. If telehealth is new to you, it is recommended you give yourself enough time to become familiar with using your technology. When you see the message It's time to start your video visit!, select Begin Video Visit.

1. From the Ballad Health app or website, log in to MyChart, go to Visits and select Appointments and Visits from the dropdown menu to view details about your visit, sign your consent form and complete your check-in.

2. When you see the message It's time to start your video visit!, select Begin Video Visit.

3. Select Start Session and click Allow for use of your microphone and camera. Now you're virtually in the room where you'll be seen by your provider.

4. If you haven't already done so, do a technology check. At the bottom right, select Click here for a pre-session tech check. A short pre-call test will run and make any recommendations about your audio/video setup and assess the quality of the session.

5. Close the technology test browser tab and click on the Ballad Health tab to return to the video session. You'll be placed back in a virtual waiting room.

6. Be sure to select End Session and close your browser session after you video appointment has concluded.

NOTE: If you accidentally end the session, you do have the ability to rejoin the session by clicking on Join Session prompt again.

If you need help with testing your equipment before your video visit, call our ConnectedCare team at 1.855.678.2273 (CARE) or 423.262.4610.
